Period for Reply -- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 19 June 2008.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 31, 32 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. 1,311,354 to King.

The patent to King discloses a method of precision dispensing of material comprising providing a device including a frame which includes a base (3), a rotatable threaded shaft (6) and a rotatable metering element (20), providing a reservoir (14), within the device, wherein the reservoir directly holds a quantity of material providing a compressible material line being attached to and extending from the reservoir. A thin strip of pliable metal (15) functions as a clamp above the base. King also discloses positioning the compressible material line between the metering element and base, moving the metering element through rotating the threaded shaft, causing translation motion of the metering device of a precise unit. The method also includes the step of dispensing precise unit of material from the device, as recited in claims 31 and 32. The metering element is a pinch roller type and includes a carriage block (8) attached to the roller wherein the compressible line is positioned beneath the pinch roller and wherein the rotatable shaft is a ball screw shaft that operationally engages and translationally moves the carriage block of the metering element, as recited in claim 34.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 23, 25, 26 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over King.

The patent to King discloses the recited structure and method with the exception of specifically disclosing that the metered amount is within +/- 2% of the desired quantity, however it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to dispense the material at +/- 2% of the desired quantity, since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. Wherein the rotatable shaft is threaded, it is believed that the rotation of knob (7) will allow for a more precise dispensing of material.

Response to Amendment

3. Applicant argues that the King reference does not disclose the reservoir having a compressible line that is attached thereto. The device of King does not disclose a reservoir, however, the material placed within the device, i.e., toothpaste which directly holds material therein and has a compressible line attached to and extending from the reservoir.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-10, 13-22 and 29 are allowed.
